

International Uranium Fuel Seminar 2009
October 18-21
Hilton Austin

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS AND SESSION CHAIRPERSONS

NEI invites you to make a presentation or chair a session at this year's International Uranium Fuel Seminar, October 18-21, 2009 at the Hilton Austin in Austin, Texas.

Conference sessions will focus on numerous topics and may include:

- uranium mining (new deposits, exploration highlights)
- market developments (investment fund influences, supply-demand forecasts)
- utility fuel procurement (approaches and strategies, risk management options)
- political developments (domestic, international trade and commerce)
- adequacy of fuel-cycle services (conversion, enrichment, fuel manufacturing) to support nuclear expansion.
- and other topics as identified.

Seminar sessions are forming now! Please submit a brief abstract (one-half page or less) on one of these, or other, fuel cycle-related policy or commercial issues at your earliest convenience. Abstracts received prior to August 15 will receive priority consideration.

Please volunteer to chair a session or forward an abstract to Janet Schlueter, seminar program coordinator at (202) 739-8098 or e-mail jrs@nei.org.

THANK YOU for supporting the seminar!
